

ASCS SUMMER READING RISING THIRD GRADE

Dear Incoming 3rd Grade Parents,

We are extremely excited about the upcoming year and are looking forward to getting to know all of you and your children! To ease the students into the transition, we ask that you don't let the summer months go by without encouraging your child to read. Reading is the foundation of your child's ability to learn and ultimately their ability to function successfully in an ever changing society! We ask for you to help them discover the magic of books by reading this summer. You may read with them or they may read on their own. Read in the dark with a flashlight, for example, read in the pool, read to your dog! Just make sure to read, read, read and make it enjoyable.

The children will be responsible for reading three books in total. They are to select one mystery, one biography or autobiography and one fiction book from the attached list. We ask that you keep a reading log that will be required to be turned in on the first day of school (see attached). The summer reading assignment will also be posted on our school's website. Within the first few weeks of school your child will be given an assignment to complete related to one of their summer reading books that will count for a test grade in reading. Most importantly read, have fun, and enjoy the summer! See you in August.
